

WALL OF FIRE: Rights & Chain of Title

Favor International, a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit based in the United States with field operations in Uganda and South Sudan, holds full publishing rights to the two source books: Send Me Where No One Wants to Go (Copyright © 2017 Favor International, Inc.) and Lord Send Us Where No One Wants to Go (Copyright © 2024 Favor International, Inc.).

The majority of testimony subjects featured in both books are alive, and most are currently serving on Favor International's ministry staff in Uganda, South Sudan, Chad, or in the United States. Life rights for every living subject are accessible through one point of contact: Stephanie Maier, Director of Favor International.

There is no chain-of-title problem on this project. There is no third-party agent, no shared IP, no scattered heirs, and no outside option holders. Every conversation, rights, consultation, dramatization, name use, image release, writer's room access, on-set consultation, runs through one office.

For a producer, this means one meeting, one agreement, one signing party.
